

In Session Four of our Jamcast interview with guitar Deity Steve Vai, you'll hear Steve talk about the guitar pioneers and trend setters in music today. Ken and Steve discuss why it's so much more difficult to breakout today and be an original artist. They discuss the "music-by-the-pound" culture that we live in today and how we as listeners and artists respond to it. Shifting gears, Ken asks Steve about his CD Sound Theories and his collaboration with the Netherlands Metropole Orchestra. You'll also hear about his experiences scoring for Frank Zappa. It's a very heady session with one of the all time great musicians of our time.

Enjoy this Session with Steve Vai!

{enclose VAI4.mp3}