

In Session Five of our Jamcast interview with guitar great Steve Vai, you'll hear Steve talk about the design process of his signature Ibanez Jem guitar and his signature Carvin Legacy amp. He also mentions how he is working with Carvin and Ben Fargen in development of a new Legacy model. Ken and Steve discuss how he was discovered by Cliff Cultreri and what Steve learned early on about the record business. At the end, Steve talks a bit about how he has no regrets about the decisions he has been made in his career and a bit about his philosophy on life.
