

On The Jamcast today we have a very special interview with a true master of the guitar, virtuoso Tommy Emmanuel. A finger style guitarist inspired by the legendary Chet Atkins - who became one of Emmanuel's biggest fans, called him "one of the greatest players on the planet" and gave him the title c.g.p. - certified guitar player. Emmanuel combines folk, country, jazz, and other influences in his highly personal and emotive compositions.

In Session One of this week's Jamcast, Ken and Tommy discuss the switch from electric to acoustic guitar, his playing style, practicing habits, and so much more.
