

In Session 1 of our Artist Interview with James "Munky" Shaffer of Korn, Munky tells us how guitar playing came to him by accident - literally. He discusses how after the accident he was introduced to the guitar to help him recover from his injury, and as most of you know, the rest is rock history. Next, the conversation turns to Munky's development as a player over the years; from his practice habits, lessons, mentors, and how he became a songwriter. He expands on the song writing experience and how he develops his ideas and turns them into finished songs. Munky also reveals how important the band is in that process.

Enjoy Session One of The Jamcast with Munky!

{enclose MUNKY1.mp3}