

In Part 5 of our Artist Interview with Joe Satriani, GJD's Ken Volpe talks to Joe about the recording process and the studio set up on his new album Super Colossal. Joe goes over the amps, speakers and mics that he used to record the solos and tracks on the CD. Next, Joe and Ken spend some time talking about their mutual friend Cliff Cultreiri and the benefit concert Joe and Steve Vai put on for him. Joe talks about how he met Cliff and how their relationship evolved over time -- and how special he's been to Joe personally and professionally. Lastly, Joe reveals how important Cliff was in development of Joe's epic release "Surfing with The Alien."

Click Here to Listen to Session 5 with Joe Satriani >
{enclose SATCH5.mp3}

*photo Patrick Cusse