Wednesday, 05 March 2008 15:34

In Session 3 of Artist to Watch, GJD's Ken Volpe continues riffing with Willem Hartong the guitarist, singer and songwriter of the trio Breaking Laces based in Brooklyn, NY. Breaking Laces has been together for three years and is enjoying success from the constant touring, recording and the simple application of proverbial "elbow grease." Ken and Willem discuss the state of the record industry and how it has changed. They also get into how Independent artists promote themselves, how they have more creative freedom and what they need to do to thrive in 2008.
