

Fishman Intros New Nashville Pickup

Thursday, 22 May 2008 08:07

Nashville, TN--The Summer NAMM show will provide the ideal context for Fishman to introduce a new premium pickup for the Resophonic Spider-style guitar which once again set the standard for the category.

A result of intensive R&D effort, the Nashville pickups offer an extraordinary level of performance, tone quality and accuracy for a Spider-style Resophonic guitar.

Specifically designed for a Spider-style Resophonic guitar, the new Nashville Series premium pickup also features an integrated installation in high quality bridges that enhance the overall tonal character of the instrument.

In addition to an exceptionally clear, true and natural tonal response designed to reveal the true character of the instrument, these pickups sound remarkably consistent every time they are played.

The new pickups are also optimized for use with Fishman Aura Imaging Pedals to provide a higher level of sound quality and added sonic versatility in live performance. The Resophonic pickup includes an endpin jack.

MSRP for Nashville Series Resophonic Spider-style Pickup: $259.95
