

Montreal, Canada- September 16th, 2008: Renowned guitarist Daryl Stuermer will be giving Godin Performance Clinics in and around Quebec and Eastern Ontario from September 29th to October 3rd 2008.

Having performed in studio and toured the world with both Phil Collins and supergroup Genesis for years, Daryl is a player who is on top of his game and has the chops to prove it. Performing as the Daryl Stuermer Duo, he will be accompanied by keyboardist Konstantin Efimov during the clinics and will also be giving attendees his perspective on playing live, recording, technique, and his gear, by fielding a Q&A session after each performance.

The Duo will also be giving a special performance in Montreal on September 28th at Club Soda to close out the 3rd annual Montreal Guitar Grand Prix competition, presented by Godin Guitars in collaboration with SIMM, Steve's Music Store and the Festival International de Jazz de Montreal.

While on the road and in studio recording his latest album "GO" (on InsideOut Music), Daryl turned to his Godin LGXT. This 3-voice guitar allows for a world of sonic possibilities through a 13-pin output, as well as acoustic and its main electric sounds. "The LGXT gives me more options in sound than any other guitar I've ever owned and it's a dream to play," says Stuermer of his main axe, which is featured on the cover of his latest album.
